

Your Personal / Financial Diary

An Aid for Your Family

This is the personal financial diary of _____

Social Security Number _____

This diary was last updated on _____

We strongly suggest this diary be completed in pencil so it can be updated whenever necessary. We also suggest storing the book in a storage bag in your freezer so in case of fire in your residence, the diary will remain safe.

Your Personal/Financial Diary

This handbook was developed in November 1995 to be used as an educational tool for Concerns of Police Survivors' national training sessions. These training sessions were planned to help agencies address the emotional aftermath following a law enforcement officer's death.

Concerns of Police Survivors, Inc., gives permission for this handbook to be copied by any person, agency, or organization. COPS would request, however, a credit line be given in the reproduced document.

This Your Personal/Financial Diary is a project of Concerns of Police Survivors, Inc. Production of this handbook was made easy by modeling it after the "Critical Incident Booklet" published by the Grand Lodge Fraternal Order of Police Auxiliary.

Introduction

This personal financial diary was planned with the specific intention of giving law enforcement officers, who serve in a high-risk profession, the opportunity to organize their financial business so their families will have this information in an organized fashion should that officer be killed in the line of duty or die at an early age. However, this diary can be used by anyone to organize their personal/financial affairs.

Everyday law enforcement officers tend to tedious paperwork. Writing detailed reports can make the difference in court cases, civil cases, and truly affect the outcome of occurrences in peoples' lives. Paperwork is a major part of the law enforcement officer's job.

Having worked with thousands of families that have lost officers in the line of duty, it has become apparent to Concerns of Police Survivors, Inc., that while law enforcement officers handle paperwork every day on the street, they are extremely lax at handling personal paperwork. You see, each year, during National Police Week, a time when the law enforcement profession gathers to honor its fallen, we hear of 20 or more families whose officers forgot to up date their beneficiary forms. Imagine finding out after your law enforcement officer spouse has died that you're not listed as the beneficiary on insurance forms!. Imagine finding out that although you've been married to this officer for seven year, the former spouse is still listed as beneficiary!

This is a hurt no family should have to suffer. This handbook is designed to address this violation of law enforcement officers' dependents. The diary also encourages those who take the time to organize their affairs to leave a letter stating why the spouse was not their beneficiary if that was their intent. It will eliminate many family traumas and will help the surviving family understand why the deceased left benefits to various individuals other than the spouse.

Take time with your spouse to sit down and complete Your Personal/Financial Diary. It will save you or your survivors hundreds of hours searching for legal and financial documents at some time in the future.

If you're a law enforcement officer, it's the least you can do for the family that loves you and supports your profession.

My Living Will

Individuals may execute a "living will" that instructs family members and physicians to not take extraordinary steps to continue your life on life-support machines. You should investigate the legality of the "living will" within your state and take steps to execute the "living will" if you do not choose to be kept alive through mechanical means.

_____ I have NOT executed a "living will"

_____ I have executed a "living will"

Since copies of living wills may not be acceptable in some states, an original, signed copy of my living will is readily accessible at: _____
Additional copies of my "living will" are on file with my personal physician, attorney, and with my will.

My Will

Your will should address special requests on how you would like insurance money to be spent, who you would like to have your prized possessions, etc. By providing this information in a will, your wishes can be upheld in court. Otherwise, your primary beneficiary will have total control of your assets/possessions. However, if this information is not included in your will, there is a section in this handbook for that information to be provided.

_____ I do not have a will

Often times families incur additional emotional, legal and financial burdens when a loved one dies without having executed a will. We strongly suggest this be a task that you address as soon as possible.

Special Final Requests

As stated earlier in this handbook, special final requests should be addressed in one's will so your wishes will be upheld by a court of law. If you have not addressed these special final requests in a will, your primary beneficiary will have total control of your assets/possessions for final disposal. We strongly recommend addressing these issued in your will. If you choose not to, however, complete this section to alleviate your family of the decisions that might need to be made on your behalf.

Other Considerations

This handbook was planned to save as much heartache as possible immediately following the death of a loved one. All the planning and preparation in the world, however, won't save a family serious heartache if someone chooses to keep information about their life from family members. Often, after someone dies, family members are shocked to find out there are other children from outside the marriage and other significant others.

To save your spouse or other family members this heartache and torment, it is suggested that you write a letter to be opened upon your death that will tell your family about the issues you felt you could not discuss with them during your lifetime.

Additionally, we recommend that you discuss with your spouse the beneficiary listings you have chosen on various insurance policies. This will help alleviate the family upheavals that seriously effect the grief process when family members doubt that you meant to leave benefits to people who received those benefits.

Be proactive and address these issues before it is too late.
